

Worksite Workgroup

The mission of the Worksite workgroup is to identify existing strategies, and propose feasible new strategies, to improve worksite environments and policies with the goal of increasing employees' opportunities for physical activity and healthy eating and, as applicable, continued breastfeeding of infants by mothers returning to work. Strategies should include worksite-wide policy and environmental changes that are economically and culturally appropriate to Montana worksites of various sizes and with various levels of resources, and should address public, private, nonprofit and tribal settings.
